Bejewel my sunshine

The advent of spring makes Annabel Davidson want to celebrate the sun – and what better way to do so than with heliocentric fine jewellery?

BY ANNABEL DAVIDSON

APRIL 17, 2015 12:54

I don't want to jinx it, but this weather we've been having makes me want to dress for the tropics, drink rose, and celebrate the sun in general. Luckily, jewellers are already on the case, as there seems to be a lot of heliocentric design around at the moment.

Turkish jeweller Vanessa Kandiyoti's Chakra collection includes a Solar Plexus range of earrings and pendants in white diamonds, yellow sapphires, and smooth citrine cabochon stones. They're vibrant, slightly jagged, and pleasingly bright. (And who knew that our Solar Plexus gets its name for its sun-ray-like nerve fibres? Not me.)

Silvia Furmanovich isn't lacking in Vitamin D, being based in Brazil, but her new Sun collection is full of that good stuff. Consisting largely of statement earrings with a few bracelets thrown in, the collection ranges from literal interpretations of the burning star, complete with smiling face, to a more stylised use of its rays, spreading out from central stones and studded with black diamonds.
